AN EGLESTON KID IS A SAFE KID

It's a squeaky-clean new year, just "bubbling" with possibilities for 3-year-old David Fischler. Born with a rare genetic disease, the Marietta preschooler successfully manages his condition with a strict diet and a formula created by Emory-Egleston physician-scientists.

Bright-eyed Chase Garner knows the only way to travel is in style—car safety seat style, that is. Born with a urological defect, the Sandy Springs 2-year-old underwent surgery as an infant to correct the problem. Today, he's enjoying the life of the terrific twos with safety in mind.

The seat should face the rear of the car until your child weighs about 20 pounds. If your car has a shoulder strap, it's critical to use a locking clip with the car seat. The clip secures the lap belt to the shoulder strap, which keeps the safety seat in place.

After tumbling from her bicycle and fracturing her skull, 7-year-old Melissa Tallman knows she was lucky to recover successfully. Today, the Dallas third-grader always puts on a helmet before biking — and she reminds her friends to do the same.

An Eggleston Kid Is a Safe Kid

Founded in 1916, Eggleston is today the largest and most comprehensive children's medical facility in Georgia. A 235-licensed bed referral hospital for the state and the Southeast, Eggleston is involved in the diagnosis, treatment and research of infants, children and adolescents suffering from childhood diseases and life-threatening illnesses and injuries.

Representing all pediatric subspecialties, Eggleston has one of the country's largest cardiology and cardiovascular surgery programs in The Children's Heart Center and one of the biggest childhood cancer programs in the United States.

In addition to its full range of services which include heart, heart-lung, kidney, liver, corneal and bone marrow transplantation, Eggleston has the state's only pediatric kidney dialysis unit. A designated pediatric trauma center, Eggleston is well-equipped to handle all types of trauma around the clock. In March 1990,

Eggleston formed the nation's first pediatric disaster medical assistance team, trained to respond to any national disaster such as a hurricane or tornado.

Eggleston is involved not only in the treatment of injuries, but also in their prevention. In December 1990, Eggleston became the headquarters of SAFE KIDS of Georgia, and is leading a campaign to educate parents, and children, on child safety.

Research also plays an important role at Eggleston. The formation of the Emory-Eggleston Children's Research Center in 1985 combined the expertise of investigators at the Emory University School of Medicine with the strong commitment of Eggleston to improve the quality of children's lives.

To meet the growing needs of pediatricians and families in Gwinnett County and surrounding areas, the hospital opened the Eggleston Children's Health Center in Gwinnett in 1986.

In addition to the more than 1,800 physicians and staff members devoted to treating sick children, Eggleston enjoys the strong support of more than 17,000 individuals, civic organizations, foundations and businesses who have donated time, talent and financial support to make it what it is . . . a special place for children.

We invite you to become an official member of the Eggleston family. To find out how, please contact the Development Office at (404) 325-6449.

*Special thanks to the SAFE KIDS of Georgia office at Eggleston for providing the calendar safety tips.
If you'd like more information on child safety, please call the office at (404) 321-KIDS.*

The Invitation to Confession

The Time of Confession

The General Confession:

God, of love, you offer us your world and your care, and we abandon you. You welcome strangers among us, and we become jealous of them. You give us possibilities for peace and justice, and we turn them aside. We are like lost children, God. Sometimes we run from you and we hardly know our way back. Yet there you are, welcoming us, always ready to open your arms to us. Thank you, God, for being there. Amen.

The Absolution

The Prayer That Jesus Taught Us

The Sersum Corda

Celebrant: Our God be with you.

People: And Also with you.

Celebrant: Lift up your hearts.

People: We lift them up to our God.

Celebrant: Let us give thanks to God our Creator.

People: It is right to give God thanks and praise.

Celebrant: It is a right, a good, and a joyful thing, always and everywhere, to give thanks to You, almighty God, Creator of heaven and earth. Therefore we praise You, joining our voices with all the company of heaven who forever sing to proclaim the glory of Your Name.

"The Sanctus and Benedictus"

Holy, Holy, Holy, Oh God of power and might. Heaven and earth are full of Your glory, Hosannah in the highest!

Blessed is Christ, Who comes in the Name of our God.

Hosannah in the highest!

The Consecration

"The Affirmation of the Mystery of Our Faith"

Christ has died. Christ is risen.

Christ is here. Christ will come again!

The Distribution of the Elements (Indicate to an usher if you physically need to be served at your seat.)
